

Parenting Young

JOB DESCRIPTION PARENTING YOUNG ADVISORY COMMITTEE

Job Summary

The Parenting Young Team at Northern Health and the University of British Columbia are looking for young people to join an Advisory Council to guide a parenting program for young parents. We are looking for people aged 21 or younger who are:

- Expecting a baby or newly parenting
- Have access to a phone
- Live in British Columbia
- Speak English

You will receive an honorarium of $100 for your time and important knowledge.

Your participation will take place between March 15 and December 30, 2023 and will involve 2-3 meetings and discussion by email.

Advisory Committee members will join the Parenting Young Team at Northern Health and will report to Patti Janssen, Professor at the University of British Columbia School of Population and Public Health and will work closely with Randi Parsons, Regional Nursing Lead for Maternal Infant Health, Northern Health.

Your role on the Advisory Council will include:

- Helping us create a survey about what young parents want to learn about pregnancy and parenting.
- Letting us know how to reach young parents to invite them to a focus group or to complete the survey.
- Helping us to understand survey results.

If you are interested, please contact us at smartmomcanada@gmail.com or by text at 604 313 8243.